Re: USB Programmer part# S1-LXPROG

Dear USACD Customer,

Our newest accessory for the LX thermostats allows you to scroll your dealer name and number across the screen and alert homeowners when service is needed for their HVAC equipment. Just purchase a single USB programmer for your office and install its easy to use software on your PC or Mac. On the software's setup screen select the "Custom" button directly under the service information section. Click this button and type in your company name, company phone number and your custom message you want the homeowner to see when service is needed.

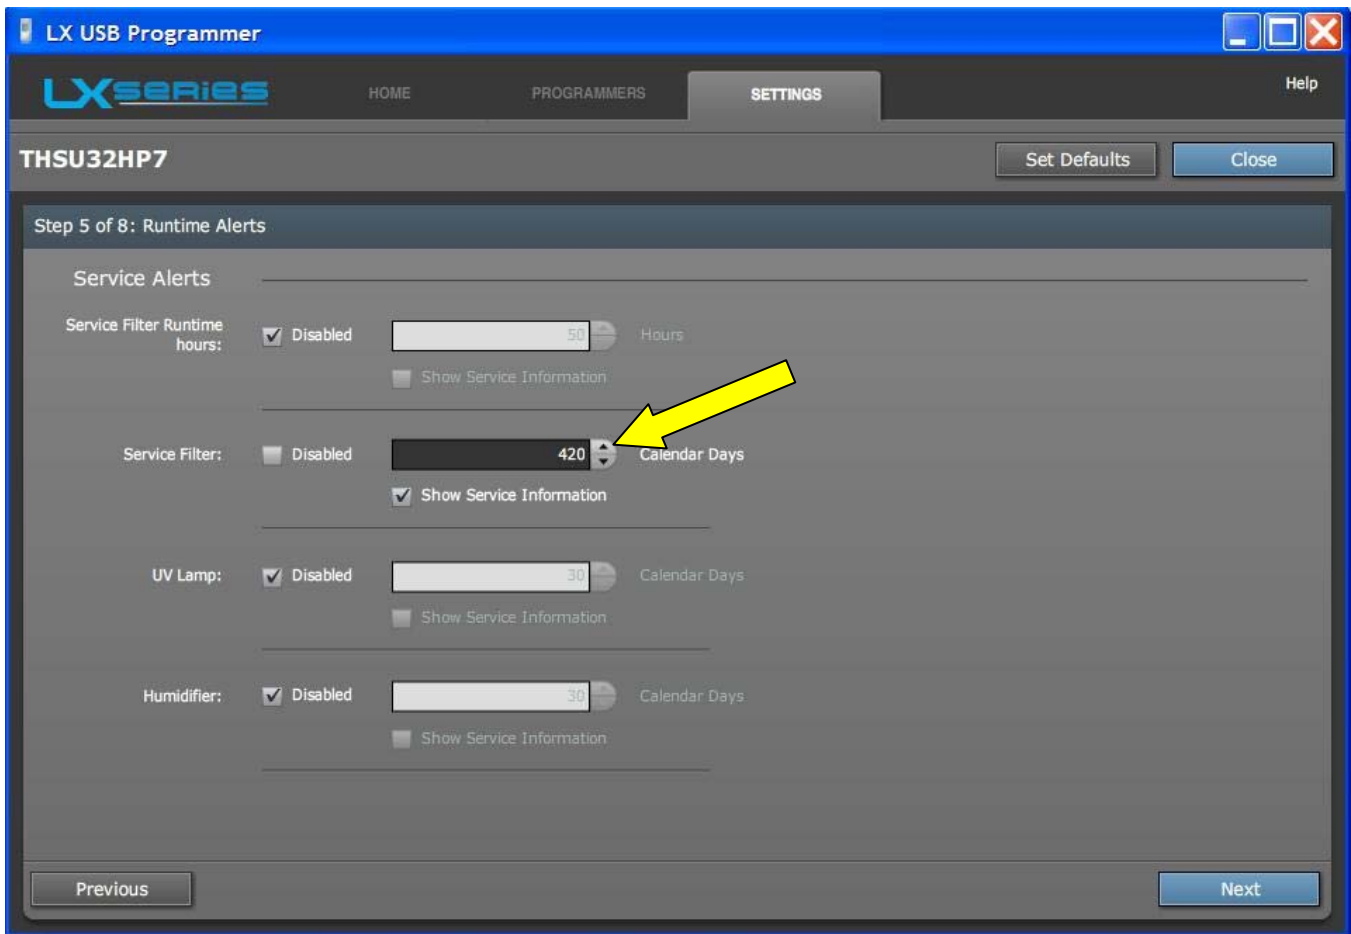

Once finished, click "Send settings" to save your message on the USB programmer. Now, every time you install a LX thermostat in the field you can upload your custom dealer information from your USB programmer.

We know HVAC contractors have the knowledge and expertise to decide the best time equipment gets serviced and maintained. So we let you determine exactly when your dealer information will be displayed on the front of the LX thermostats scrolling marquee. You can select your message to show up based on a predetermined number of calendar days, filter run time hours, UV lamp run time, humidifier run time or based on an error input from the HVAC equipment, your choice! Multiple runtime alerts may be selected when applicable.

Another added feature when using the USB programmer with a LX thermostat is homeowners don't have to go to a phone book to find your company name and number anymore. The LX thermostat allows them to hold down the "Display" button on the front of the thermostat and conveniently show your dealer information.

Best regards,
